Comradeship - to create fellowship among young people in the Methodist church and other churches. This is a programme that enables us to share ideas whilst having fun and understanding one another.

❖ Where do you come from?	Osborn Circuit 1325, Clarkebury Synod. In Mount Frere, Eastern Cape.
❖ What do you love most about your circuit?	I love how my circuit is diverse; it is among the circuits which have different people according to tribes. We are mpondos and bhacas at the same circuit.
❖ When did you become a full member of the MCSA?	Year 2007 at Osborn Circuit under Rev B.V. Madikiza
❖ When did you personally encounter Jesus? Describe scene.	At a certain service the preacher shared his sermon on the story of Samuels calling, I related with the story especially because I was also young and I wanted to offer my life to the Lords work as this young man had done. I yearned to hear what Jesus wanted me to do.
❖ When and why did you join the Wesley Guild?	I joined the Wesley Guild in 2009. I wanted to grow within the church and I believed that the Wesley Guild has the capability to grow quality Christians and church leaders.
❖ Have your expectations been met? (Elaborate)	Yes, the Wesley Guild continues to produce leaders of our church but I believe that there is still a chance for the church to open opportunities of growth for many other young people and it should not only be on paper but a usage for the entire church.
❖ What do you love and dislike most about Wesley Guild?	I love how the Wesley Guild allows us to be siblings at church and afford us opportunities to know each other even personally through the 4C services. I however dislike how the Wesley Guild conduct themselves within their societies, Wesley Guild Members need numbers to be visible. I wish we could be able to shine where we are even as individuals.
❖ Is the Wesley Guild still relevant today? (Please elaborate)	The Wesley Guild will always be relevant in the church for generations to come. I believe it is a great platform for the youth to be themselves and be moulded as leaders of the church and the community at large. All it needs is to be shaped according to the needs of that generation.

❖ What best advice you ever received from a Guilder?	I was once advised to not let my judgement cloud my decisions.
❖ Which 'C' in 4Cs you love the most and why? (If you 'love all Cs' please elaborate on each of them)	Christian Service/Community Development: This C speaks to our mission and it teaches us to appreciate what we have. We need live and lead a Christian life by being visible followers of Jesus Christ.
❖ What roles have you played or continue to play in helping the Wesley Guild grow?	I have played different roles at my circuit including being the Wesley Guild Vice President at some point and other roles to ensure growth of the Wesley Guild. I have also been an active member to Circuits that I had been a visitor at. I am currently the MYCU secretary of Mount Frere Region and I am also a delegate for the Clarkebury Synod to the Connexional Youth Conference. I offer my administrative and creative skills to the Wesley Guild.
❖ What is your favourite Methodist hymn and why?	There are a lot of our hymns that speak to me, amongst those is Hymn 353. I believe we are the educated generation and it is upon us to explore as much as we would like and use the knowledge we've acquired positively. We have to thank the Lord for such an opportunity.
❖ Your philosophy in life?	The sky is not the limit if there are foot prints on the moon – nothing is impossible with God. I believe that we should never set standards for ourselves because there are always better things but we limit ourselves.
❖ What would you say to a young person who is about to give up on battle they are facing?	That God is above any challenge that they may be facing, they should never give up no matter how hard it may be but it will eventually get better.
❖ How do you handle challenges?	I pray, I believe that it is through prayer only where we can really express how we feel. We can't really keep exposing our challenges to people. Lanto athi umvumi wasekhaya "kunathenjwa bantu".
❖ What keeps you going and dedicating your life to God	Faith that my redeemer lives and he has great plans for my life.

InTouch articles are testimonies to the power of God and are role-model stories that teach by example, rather than by preaching or teaching. We don't always remember everything, so please do email us if you have any feedback or ideas for items to include.
